

This looks unusual to me - I think the loop should be farther to the right?

I wonder if you want to try more similar shapes for these? (maybe both should be tapered/pointed like the hal kirima?) The consonants' shape also looks a bit large to me

This shape looks a little out of place to me - I wonder if it could be more similar to other shapes in the design? Maybe more like the hal kirima above?

Here's an 80% scale of the Latin and numerals, mixed in with your Regular. Something like this might match a bit better
